Qualifications in audit report on historical financial information: There are no qualifications in the audit report of the Issuer on its audited historical financial information.

What are the key risks that are specific to the Issuer?

The Issuer is subject to the following key risks:

- The Issuer is a holding company that does not engage in any material amount of business activities that generate revenues. It services its obligations primarily with dividends and advances from its subsidiaries. Its subsidiaries that operate in the securities businesses can only pay dividends if they are in compliance with applicable regulatory requirements imposed on them by federal and state regulatory authorities, and may also be subject to credit agreements that may restrict their ability to pay dividends. If such subsidiaries do not realise sufficient earnings to satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, or if such requirements are changed to further restrict the ability of such subsidiaries to pay dividends to the Issuer, the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities may be adversely affected, and consequently the value of and return on the Securities may be adversely affected.
- The Issuer may not be able to maintain its current ratings. If a rating agency reduces, suspends or withdraws its rating of the Issuer and/or any affiliate thereof, the liquidity and market value of the Securities are likely to be adversely affected. Ratings downgrades could also have a negative impact on other funding sources, such as secured financing and other margin requirements, for which there are no explicit triggers.

Key risks in respect of the Guarantor:

The Guarantor is subject to the following key risks:

- The Guarantor is a holding company that does not engage in any material amount of business activities that generate revenues. It services its obligations primarily with dividends and advances from its subsidiaries. Its subsidiaries that operate in the banking, insurance and securities businesses can only pay dividends if they are in compliance with applicable regulatory requirements imposed on them by federal and state regulatory authorities, and may also be subject to credit agreements that may restrict their ability to pay dividends. If such subsidiaries do not realise sufficient earnings to satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, or if such requirements are changed to further restrict the ability of such subsidiaries to pay dividends to the Guarantor, the Guarantor's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities may be adversely affected, and consequently the value of and return on the Securities may be adversely affected.
- The Guarantor is expected to act as a source of financial strength for its subsidiary banks and to commit resources to support such banks. As a result, the Guarantor may be required to commit resources (in the form of investments or loans) to its subsidiary banks in amounts or at times that could adversely affect its ability to also fulfil its obligations under the Securities, and consequently the value of and return on the Securities.
- The Guarantor may not be able to maintain its current ratings. If a rating agency reduces, suspends or withdraws its rating of the Guarantor and/or any affiliate thereof, the liquidity and market value of the Securities are likely to be adversely affected. In addition, ratings downgrades could have a significant and immediate impact on the Guarantor's funding and liquidity through cash obligations, reduced funding capacity and derivative triggers and additional margin requirements. Ratings downgrades could also have a negative impact on other funding sources, such as secured financing and other margin requirements, for which there are no explicit triggers. A reduction in the Guarantor's or its subsidiaries' credit ratings could also widen the Guarantor's credit spreads or otherwise increase its borrowing costs and limit its access to the capital markets. Any of the foregoing factors may negatively impact the value of and return on the Securities.
- Adequate liquidity and sources of funding are essential to the Guarantor's businesses, and can be significantly and negatively impacted by factors the Guarantor cannot control, such as general disruptions in the financial markets, governmental fiscal and monetary policies, regulatory changes or negative investor perceptions of the Guarantor's creditworthiness. The Guarantor's ability to obtain funding may be impaired if other market participants are seeking to access the markets at the same time, or if market appetite declines, as is likely to occur in a liquidity stress event or other market crisis. A sudden drop in market liquidity could also cause a temporary or lengthier dislocation of underwriting and capital markets activity. In addition, clearing organisations, central banks, clients and financial institutions with which the Guarantor interacts may exercise the right to require additional collateral based on their perceptions or the market conditions, which could further impair the Guarantor's access to and cost of funding. These factors may negatively impact the market value of the Securities.

What are the key risks that are specific to the Securities?

The Securities are subject to the following key risks:

- You should be prepared to sustain a total or partial loss of the purchase price of your Securities. The value of Securities prior to their scheduled redemption may vary due to a number of interrelated factors, including the value, dividend yield and volatility of the Underlying(s) and any changes in interim interest rates if applicable, and a sale of Securities prior to their scheduled redemption may be at a substantial discount from the original purchase price and you may lose some or all of your investment. If, at maturity, a Termination Barrier Event has not occurred and the Final Reference Level of the Underlying is less than its Termination Initial Level, the Securities may be terminated for less than your initial investment. Further, you will receive no couponing of the terms of the Securities.
- The Issuer's obligations under the Securities and the Guarantor's obligations under the deed of guarantee represent general contractual obligations of each respective entity and of no other person. Accordingly, payments under the Securities are subject to the credit risk of the Issuer and the Guarantor. Securityholders will not have recourse to any secured assets of the Issuer and Guarantor in the event that the Issuer or Guarantor is unable to meet its obligations under the Securities, including in the event of an insolvency, and therefore risk losing some or all of their investment.

- Securities may have no established trading market when issued, and one may never develop, so investors should be prepared to hold the Securities until maturity. If a market does develop, it may not be very liquid. Consequently, you may not be able to sell your Securities easily or at all or at prices equal to or higher than your initial investment and in fact any such price may be substantially less than the original purchase price. Illiquidity may have a severely adverse effect on the market value of Securities.
- Amounts due in respect of the Securities are linked to the performance of the Underlying(s), which is a security index. Global economic, financial and political developments, among other things, may have a material effect on the value of the component securities of, and/or the performance of, the Underlying(s), and in recent years, currency exchange rates and prices for component securities have been highly volatile. This may in turn affect the value of and return on the Securities.
- The Securities do not create an actual interest in, or ownership of, an Underlying. A Security will not represent a claim against an Underlying and, in the event that the amount paid on redemption of the Securities is less than your investment, you will not have recourse under any relevant Security to an Underlying or other items which may comprise the Underlying in respect of such Securities. You will have no legal or beneficial interest in an Underlying. You may receive a lower return on the Securities than you would have received had you invested directly in an Underlying or through another product.
- Where (i) a benchmark is materially changed, cancelled or its use is prohibited, (ii) any authorisation or similar in respect of a benchmark or its administrator or sponsor has not been, or will not be, obtained or has been, or will be, rejected or similar such that the Issuer or any other entity is not, or will not be, permitted to use the benchmark, (iii) it is not commercially reasonable to continue use of a benchmark due to licensing restrictions or changes in licence costs, or (iv) a supervisor and/or sponsor officially announces a benchmark is no longer representative, or as of a specified future date will no longer be representative, of any relevant underlying market(s) or economic reality that such benchmark is intended to measure, adjustments may be made to the Securities which may include selecting one or more successor benchmarks and making related adjustments. Alternatively, early redemption of the Securities may apply. Any such adjustment may have an adverse effect on the value of, return on or market for the Securities, and if the Securities are early redeemed, the amount repaid to you could be substantially less than your initial investment and you could therefore sustain a loss.
- The terms and conditions of Securities include provisions dealing with the postponement of dates on which the level of an Underlying is scheduled to be taken. Such postponement or alternative provisions for valuation provided in the terms and conditions of the Securities may have an adverse effect on the value of such Securities. The calculation agent may make adjustments to the terms of the Securities to account for the effect of certain adjustment events occurring in respect of the Securities or an Underlying and/or hedging arrangements, or may replace an Underlying with a new security index. Any such adjustments may have an adverse effect on the value of such Securities. In certain circumstances (for example, if the calculation agent determines that no calculation, adjustment or substitution can reasonably be made, following an event of default or certain events affecting an Underlying or the Issuer's hedging arrangements, or for reasons relating to taxation or illegality), the Securities may be early terminated. If the Securities are terminated early, the amount paid may be less than your initial investment and you may therefore sustain a loss.
- The optional termination feature of the Securities may limit their market value. During any period when the Issuer may elect to terminate the Securities, the market value of those Securities generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. If the Securities are early redeemed at the option of the Issuer, you are subject to a reinvestment risk, as you may not be able to replace your investment in the Securities with an investment that has a similar profile of chances and risks as the Securities.
